BROADWAY TREATES.

TIMELY FREEZE OUT OF CUSTOM HOUSE REPUBLICANS. There Isn't Money Enough to Go Around, You See, and It's Expecting Too Much to Think that They Won't be First to Suffer.

There was an unusual flutter in the Custom House departments yesterday when it was announced that Collector Magone had re-ceived an official letter from Secretary Fairchild directing him to cut down expenses for the months of March, April, May, and June. A copy of the letter was forwarded early in the day to Surveyor Beattle, all the deputy collectors and chiefs of divisions. It said:

The amount of money appropriated by Congress for the collection of the revenue available for the expendi-tures at your port for the last four months of the present flacal year will be $847,878.8Q or $211,868.90 for each of the months of March, April, May, and June; and the department cannot authorize any requisitions to issue for these months in excess of the sums above stated, the statute probleting the expenditure of moueys not appropriated.

it will therefore be necessary for you to so adjust the expense of your collection district for the residue of the flacar year that they will not exceed the sum available for their nament.

expenses of your collection district for the residue of the face year that they will not exceed the sum available for their payment.

Surveyor Beattle, the deputies and chiefs, were invited to meet the Collector at 4 o'cleck in the afternoon and arrange matters to obey the Secretary's instructions. It was the first time since Mr. Magons took the chair as Collector that his Cabinet had convened. At his right was Mr. Benttle, and clustered before him were Cashier Taylor. Disbursing Agent Emanuel R. Hart, Auditor Creed, Lawgiver Joseph Treloar, Deputy Collectors McClelland, Jones, Guthrie. Rockwell. Peters, Wight, and Williams, Chief Clerk Thomas J. Dunn, and Private Secretary Kimball.

Collector Magone real the letter to them, and and that the expenses of the Custom House had been from $241,000 to $255,000 a month, and that under Secretary Fairchild's latter the expenses must be cut down between $30,000 and $40,000. The next appropriation is not due until June, and in the mean time salaries not fixed by law must be cut down and men must be dismissed.

Surveyor Beattle, speaking for his department, and that his staff of day and night inspectors was incomplete, and that the heavy summer travel was at hand.

It was intimated that it would not be necessary or advisable to practise much sconomy in the Surveyor's office, at least so far as inspectors are concerned, but that doubtless the services of some of the high-priced officials, particularly the Republicans, could be dispensed with.

Nearly all of the deputy collectors and particularly the Republicans, could be dispensed with.

Nearly all of the deputy collectors announced that there was work enough for all the men employed under them, but that as the Secretary's letter was positive, they would consider how best to obey it.

Mr. Treloar suggested that the pay rolls for June could be discounted, and the venturesome endorser of Uncle Sam's notes could wait until Congress passed the necessary appropriation.

Mr. Treloar said that this was done in 1885, when Drexel, Morgan & Co, paid the bills and got their money from Congress.

Collector Magone replied that, in view of the Becretary's explicit letter, he could not entertain such a proposition. Secretary's explicit letter, he could not enter-tain such a proposition.

After further consultation it was decided that the Cabinet should meet the Collector again his afternoon, and present the names of the men whose salaries are to be trimmed down and of those who must go. It was declared that much of the trimming of salaries will be done in Col. Jones's Liquidating Bureau, where over thirty of the derks get $2,000 a year, and that the dismissals will be liberal among the high-priced Republicans in Gen. William's sixth division at the public stores. The men unfriendly to the civil service mogulas in Wash-ington are tickled because of the opportunity to make things lively without regard to the pet rules and regulations.

Ira Ayer of the Pacific Coast Department has been ordered to join Chief Treasury Agent Holishan's staff, and take the place vacated by Col. Montgomery, who has been ordered to be ston. Collector Magone vesterday appointed Pat-zick J. Roon of New York to a $1,000 clerkship.

WILL OF HENRY BERGH. Bequest to the Society-A Mistake Endanger

Certain Legacies to Beintives. The will of Henry Bergh, founder of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, was filed yesterday. It was made in 1874, when Mr. Bergh's wife was living. The will is regular in form, but two codicils, made ten and twelve years later, strangely enough for so methodical a man, were not witnessed by two persons, as required by law. It is not unlikely however, that the obvious wishes of the testator will be observed by the other legatees. Mr. Bergh in his will leaves to the society his Interest in 92 Warren street, valued at $26,000. He gives to his nophew, Henry Bergh, son of his brother Edwin, all his personal apparel and his watch and jewelry. The residue of his estate (he had a good deal of city real estate, part of it tenement house property) he leaves in equal shares to Edwin Bergh's surviving children, subject to the dower of the testator's wife, Catherine Matilda. He leaves "to my friend, Elbridge T. Gerry, my Russian painting in oil, "A Nymph on the isea Shore," as a slight testimonial of my sincere regard for him, and of my high appreciation of his great professional services to the cause of brute protection." He makes his wife his executrix, and his nephews, Edwin and Henry, his executors. The codicil of Jan. 30, 1884, witnessed by Superintendent Hankinson of the goolety, is as follows: He gives to his naphew, Henry Bergh, son of

The Mayor Says They Get Enough Already, and Mis Cabluet is 8 to 8 on His Side. At the Mayor's Cabinet conference yesterday a motion was made to rescind the vote favoring the bill fixing the salaries of the Sergeants of police at eighty per cent. of the salaries of the Captains without any action by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment-Mr. Cantor's bill. This was carried, 8 to 3.

the power now vested in the Board of Estimate

The minority dissented because they believe that the pay of the Sergeants should be raised, because the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of 1887 acted adversely, and because the present Board of Estimate and Apportionment has not acted, and also because the minority believe that an increase of the Sergeants bay is desired by the majority of the people of this city. The Mayor says he believes that a majority of the people of this city are opposed to such an increase.

The act authorizing the building of a railroad up Broadway, introduced by Mr. Merganwas disapproved, Messrs. Forster and Purroy

The conference approved the bill turning into the general fund of the city treasury the money paid over as a percentage on the net receipts of the Greenwich Elevated Railway, which amounts to about $100,000. This is the money that Mr. Harvey tried to got to experiment with, Mr. Forster dissented.

Mr. Canda to the Sub-Treasury Employees. The men in the Sub-Treasury became heartly attached to Mr. Charles J. Canda in the two years that he was Assistant Treasurer. When Mr. Canda vacated the place, on March 1, the employees sent him a letter of regret at parting, and yesterday they received this reply the receipt of your very connection with my administration four sentiments in connection with my administration of the Sub-Treasury here.

Your testimonial will recall many peasing incidents of two of the happest years of my inc. to which I shall always look tank with pleasure it is most graffying to me to thus receive the assurance of your individual good will, conveyed in such hearifelt terms. Nor am I unmindful that the success attained in the administration of the office is largely due to your efficient and hearty deoperation and deality. With sentiments of regard and esteem, I am yours truly.

The Rev. John R. Paxton still bears a slight memento of an exciting occurrence that took place at his residence, 51 West Forty-sixth place at his residence, 51 West Forty-sixth street, a week ago last Saturday. He had stepned out of his study for a moment, and when he returned he found the mantel shelf in a binne. Some drappry that Mrs. Paxton had newly attenged had caught fire from the grate. Dr. Paxton rulled down the drappry in a hurry and extinguished the flames. He did not escape, however, without burning his fingers. The injuries were slight, and he was able to appear in the pulpit as usual the next day.

CORNELIUS A. RUNKLE DEAD. He Seems to Have Passed Away in his Sleep

Cornelius A. Runkle, a well-known lawyer, and counsel for the Tribune Association, was found dead in his bed in the Chesterfield apartment house, 14 East Fifty-third street, yesterday morning. He had gone to bed on Sunday night feeling well. When his wife went into his room in the mersing his hands were still warm, but he was dead. His ninoyear-old daughter, who had slept by his side, did not know of her father's death until awakened by Mrs. Runklo. Heart disease was the cause of death. Mr. Runkle was born in Montgomery county Mr. Runkle was born in Montgomery county in 1834. He was the son of a well-te-do farmer, and, after graduating from the common schools of Canajoharie, he went to Albany to study law. Afterward he attended the Harvard Law School. Upon being admitted to the bar he entered the office of Kent, Eaton & Davis (Chancellor Kent, Dorman B. Eaton, and J. Bancroit Davis).

In 1858 he went into partnership with George Douglas, a brother of Dr. Douglas, Gen, Grant's physician. At the close of the war he became Deputy Collector of Customs, having charge of the law division. Later he fermed a partnership with ex-Judge A. J. Dittenhoefer and I. A. Engelinardt. For the past five years he had been associated with Henry W. Sackett. He was an intimate friend of Hornee Groeley, and attorney for the Tribune twenty years.

He was Commodore Garrison's counsel in the famous Marie-Garrison suit, where $4,000.000 was involved. He appeared very seldom in court, however, his being mainly office work. His home was at Berkeley Heights, N. J.

He married Miss Lucia G. G. Gilbert, who has contributed frequently to the daily press, the leaves one child. The funeral will be private. in 1834. He was the son of a well-te-do farmer.

HUSBAND COMES OUT AHEAD.

This Time he Doesn't have to Pay his Wife' Lawyer for Suing Him. Richard Battin, the telegraph operator at Police Headquarters, is to have the custody of his children and is relieved of the unpleasant necessity of paying his wife's lawyer for suing him for abandonment and for allmony. Mrs. Battin gets little encouragement from Judge Androws. The family troubles began over Henry C. Overia, the livery man, whom Mr. Battin describes as his wife's "pet boarder." Judge Andrews says:

"Mrs. Battin for years has not conducted herself in such a way as a husband has a right to expect from his wife." He says that even if Mrs. Battin ever had any cause of action against her husband, "which I don't believe." that last fall, having left her husband once, and gone to live with him again, she had condoned anything which her husband might previously have done. Judge Andrews says he is not geing to allow Mrs. Battin counsel fees and alimony for the carrying on of an action "in which Mrs. Battin will extrainly fail."

According to her own testimony Mr. Battin is a good man. As an instance of this Judge Andrews quotes Mrs. Battin's rather sarcastic reply to the question as to whether her husband was addicted to drive. Battin gets little encouragement from Judge reply to the question as to whether her hus-band was addicted to drink: "Oh, no! he is one of the sober, church-go-ing Christians."
